

Chairman Powell,

I am very concerned about the upcoming rule change vote on Monday regarding media consolidation without public debate. This is too important to push through without adequate discussion of its consequences.

I spend my days teaching civics to young high school students. Every day I remind them of our freedoms in comparison to the lack of democracy in North Korea, former Soviet Bloc nations, Saudi Arabia, and the like. I urge them to vote and to make their voices heard. But without a format in which to do so, none of us can get the representation we are guaranteed under this form of government. Listen to the American public! We saw (heard) what rule change did to radio and we don't want more of that in our other media.
Sayzie Koldys